NORMAL PERCUSSION NOTE

1) Normal percussion note - normally the sound produce on the percussion varies both in gulility from area to area & person to person.

→ when air in the lungs is set to vibrate. a reso-nate note it produce normally.

→ Different areas of the chest when percussed produced different types of sounds.

4/8/21

Abnormal Sound

i) Impaired note — condition. when the amount of air in the alveoli is as in consolid-ation, collapse in fibrous.

Scanned with ACE Scanner

2.	dull note	lung consolidation, infiltration, fibrosis or pleural thicking.
3.	timping note (drumb like resonance).	pneumothorax, emphysema, ~~hyper~~
4.	hyper resonance (blw normal & tempanic)	pneumothorax, —11—, chronic bronchitis, or lung / pulmonary tb's. cyst.

NOTE :- limitation of percussion :-

1. It is not possible to percus deeper than 5 cm.
2. fluid less than 200 ml. In the plural cavity.
3. cavity has no effect on percussion.
4. any lesion in the lung area.
5. ribs fracture.

Scanned with ACE Scanner